WELCOME TO YOUR Monthly Guide To Growth

LOVE IS IN THE AIR!

Oh my gosh! Can you believe it's already February?! We hope your January was full of excitement and motivation to conquer 2024.

Did you set your new year intentions? Here at Success by Your Command our intentions were set HIGH, and we're rocking the new year. Between the newsletter, podcast, and new set up for the daily commands, we're excited to continue our commands to grow with you.

In this newsletter you will find:

Ideas of change, fresh new commands, and the opportunity of a lifetime!

Cultivating Personal Relationships

FROM FRIENDSHIPS TO ROMANCE, WE'RE MEANT TO ENDURE TOGETHER

Whether you celebrate or want to avoid Valentine's Day, this month tends to remind people of love. How does love make you feel? Are you open to love? Does love scare you? Do you want love but feel like it's always against you or just not in your cards?

The key is the positive outlook, and it begins with self-love! There are many ways to show yourself love, and sometimes we have to start that journey small. Self-care, things like eating healthy, embracing good sleep habits, getting dressed and remembering to breathe; these are all small things you can do to start the journey of self-love. It's only when you begin from within, that exterior love will be drawn to you, and you will have the ability to ACCEPT it! We are social creatures by nature, love and relationships are important to our overall being.

Business Relationships

Just like in our personal life, relationships in your business or work-life are just as important. Relating to our co-workers and employees helps build a strong backbone for a well-oiled company. When tensions are low, and we're respectful of each other, the energy is positive and draws clients in.

Creating strong relationships with our clients helps motivate sales and grow the bottom line. People feel welcome and appreciated when we focus on personal relationships.

One Down...

AND WE'RE READY FOR THE NEXT ONE!

Positively Transformational Podcast is held every THIRD WEDNESDAY at 1:00pm Pacific Standard Time. Last month we dove into the potential and exquisite brilliance of strategic planning and intention setting.

This month we will continue the conversations of relationships, self-love, and how those ideas affect our personal and professional ventures. This month we have a special guest, Maureen Belle who will delight you with her Heart-Centered Feng Shui and Mysticism. She'll be sharing the power of love from her near-death experience and how she communicates with whales and dolphins! As an architect and Earth-steward, Maureen redesigns spaces from the inside out.
